Dear Harold,

Your analysis of "The Garrison Affair" was prophetic.

McGovern is the best candidate money can buy.

A lot of recent data indicates a close relationship between The Mafia and CIA elements. See Peter Dale Scott's The War Conspiracy.

Even a superficial reading on the literature of hypnosis tends to substantiate Kaiser's R.F.K. Must Die.

Perhaps, you are wasting your valuable time on The Ray family. Their maturation seems completely self serving and James Earl Ray is unlikely to provide - if he indeed possesses - any important data.

I do not see P. M.

or A.O. as viable commercial properties but stuff like the tapes is a different story. As a friend J.P. "Harold's files probably contain best sellers in embryo!" The problem is their form or framework. A journalist of the Bill Turner school would weed out books from such a rich load. The average book is produced this way. Such is publishing - - - - .

Kane is with D.C. Shaw. Lane was in Washington as a lawyer for an Anti-War Group. Strange Peaches, a novel by Edwin Shrake, contains a caustically hilarious portrait of assassination buffs; "Harrison" Jones and Norman Feldman - hilarious to all but Jones Harris and Harold Feldman.

It's beautiful here now.

What's new?

Give Lil' our best. Take care of yourself.

Sincerely,
